

County Shakes With 'Mild' Earth Tremor

Amid a tornado watch and threatening rain clouds, Putnam County shook with an earth tremor last night which registered between 4.5 and 5.0 on the 10 point Richter scale.

The tremor was termed "mild."

The shake was felt throughout Indiana.

It was not related to the tornadoes, officials at Indiana University's Geological survey reported.

The tremor was also registered in Kentucky and Illinois.

Many city residents felt their homes shake when the tremor hit here and several ran from their houses to try to determine what had happened.

The third tornado watch in six days passed without a funnel cloud sighting but the skies did open up to dump .36 of an inch on the county last night.

The rain fell in a 15 minute period.

Another .36 of an inch fell on the county yesterday morning in an approximate one hour period. No damage was reported in the city as a result of the storms and tremor.

Hughes Pleads Not Guilty

Trial date has been set for April 25 in the case of the State of Indiana versus John Hughes. Hughes this morning pleaded not guilty to the charge of involuntary manslaughter in the death of Derreck P. Coleman on January 22.

Hughes chose to continue the arraignment this morning without a lawyer to represent him in order to have bond set. Judge Francis Hamilton set bond at $5000 due to the seriousness of the charge.

Involuntary manslaughter is a felony which carries a possible sentence of one to ten years at the Indiana Reformatory or the Indiana State Prison.

Hughes was instructed by Hamilton that he and his lawyer may Sheriff's deputy Jim Adams escorts John Hughes into the Putnam County Courthouse this morning. Hughes was arraigned at about 9:35 and charged with involuntary manslaughter in the death of Derreck Coleman here Jan. 22. (Banner-Graphic Photo)

Former City Resident, Daughter Miraculously Escape Ohio Twister

A former Greencastle resident and her small daughter miraculously escaped serious injury in the tornado which swept through Xenia, O. last night, destroying half of this city of 25,000.

The victims were Mrs. Virginia Padgett Clodfelter and her daughter, Beth. At the approach of the twister, they went to the basement with a number of neighbors. The roof

New Fair Contest Gives Women Turn At Wheel

Women drivers will have their turn at the wheel in a contest which will be part of a grand finale of the Putnam County 4-H Fair, it was announced at the Tuesday night meeting of the Fair Board.

In a competition, which was suggested to the directors by Board President Tom Hendricks, the ladies will try their skills over an obstacle course patterned after those used for drivers of semi-trucks. This event has been scheduled for Saturday afternoon, Aug. 3.

Other events on the closing day of the fair will be the pig scramble in the morning and a horse show to be held in the arena in the evening. A tractor pull had been anticipated for this day, but a conflict of dates made it impossible.

There will be no gate admission on Saturday, directors announced. While the livestock will be gone, the carnival will still be on the grounds and the free events are expected to bring large closing day crowds.

To solve a congestion problem of getting fair patrons into the grounds without traffic tie-ups on the highway, the board voted to install another gate at the south corner. This will probably be used for those who have season passes.

Cletus Sult, representing the Red Cross, asked the board to permit a trailer location nearer the center of activity. This request was granted. Sult reported that a large number of people were treated by Red Cross volunteers last year.

Sponsors of the Queen contest are thinking of having 15 instead of 10 candidates this year. Mrs. Carolyn Elliott, who is directing this feature, asked the board to consider a more permanent backdrop for this contest and also suggested that a rain date be set.

County Extension Agent Paul Jackson reported that the Putnam County Civil Defense unit was willing to man the entrance gates this year. The board agreed to this proposition and instructed Jackson to ask C.D. to park cars, also.

Mrs. Shirley Ruark of the County Extension office reported that the sesquicentennial theme of the fair would be: "Putnam Heritage in Review."

Fair catalogs are to be printed by Greencastle Offset, which had submitted the low bid. Directors are now completing sale of advertising for

Chamber Of Commerce Schedules Quarterly Luncheon Meeting April 22

Greencastle's Chamber of Commerce has planned a quarterly luncheon for members and invited guests April 22 at Putnam Inn, President James N. Cook has announced.

This meeting has been planned by Dave Arnold and James Jones of the Internal Affairs committee and is designed to better acquaint members and guests with pending programs and plans.

A Chamber newsletter is to be sent to all members about April 15. This will be prepared by Larry Taylor. More than 80 letters have been sent out to clubs and organizations, asking them to cooperate in a sesquicentennial celebration, which has been endorsed by the Chamber of Commerce.

April 28 has been set as the tentative date for clean-up fix-up in Greencastle. Plastic bags will be provided for convenience of city residents. On this date planters will be placed around the business district, according to present plans.

The matter of curb and sidewalk repair is still under consideration and John Carson, Jack Flint and Bob Matthews were appointed to make a study and come up with recommendations.

Speaking for the Agri-Business committee, Dale Oliver said that plans are being made to enter a float in the fair parade. Among other things, the University Relations committee is considering the parking problem around the campus.

Doug Coppinger of the Government Relations Committee reminded the Board of House Bill 1352, which makes development grants available for cities under 10,000.

Jack Flint reported that arrangements had been made with the city street department.

Three Teenage Escapees Apprehended By Police

Three teenage boys, who escaped from the Indiana Boys School at Plainfield, were apprehended last night and early this morning by Troopers from the Putnamville State Police Post.

One boy was taken into custody on Interstate 70 last night by Trooper Jim Smith.

The other two boys were picked up in Putnamville at 6:45 this morning by Trooper Dave Hawkins.

The boys were among 15 who staged a break from the institution late Wednesday afternoon.

The three held at the Putnamville Post were returned to the Boys School this morning.

Accounts Board Members Compliment Hospital Operation

Putnam County hospital's administrators have been complimented on operations for the past year by the Indiana State Board of Accounts which recently completed its annual audit.

This report was made to the hospital Board of Trustees at their meeting yesterday. An official of the State Board was quoted as saying that the local operation was "one of the finest he had audited." No change recommendations were made.

In other reports to the board, a survey of six month's operation showed that the local hospital compared favorably with state and national surveys and in various instances, local costs were below the state and national average.

In other hospital board business, Executive Manager Frank Baker asked the board to act on a request of Rev. Paul Fillers, minister of the Greencastle Church of God, to serve on the hospital chaplaincy staff. This request was granted.

Noel Nicholson, a member of the hospital board, was named to represent the institution on the board of a psychiatric out-patient clinic which serves Putnam and Hendricks County areas.

Favorable board action was given for the purchase of a new microscope at the cost of $1,300. The purchase was necessary in order that there be no delay in examinations needed by doctors. Purchase of a fetal monitor was also approved.

Upon recommendation of the medical staff, courtesy staff privileges were granted to Dr. Gary Hippensteele.

More Than 100 Hours Devoted To Comfort Top Work For Club Auction

More than 100 hours of cutting, stitching and tacking have gone into a comfort top which residents of Sunset Manor Nursing home will put in the coming Greencastle Optimist Club auction.

Making the comfort is a repeat venture for Sunset Manor folks. They did the same thing last year and they did it for their directors, Jack Cross, who is an active Optimist Club member.

Under the guidance of the Manor's activities director, Doris Keller, five residents began working on their project some time ago. The material was donated and was worked Stitching all the blocks together was Mrs. Alexander, who estimated that this took at least 100 hours. Others helped with the cutting and Wallace did the tacking.

The comfort will go to the high bidder in the Optimist auction which will be held April 9 and 10 from 6 p.m. to

Delfonics, Art Exhibit, Dance All Part Of Afro-American Weekend

Four Black women artists will feature their work April 3-20 in the Upstairs Gallery Art Center at DePauw University.

The art exhibition is in conjunction with the Afro-American Cultural Weekend April 5-7.

All four women artists are connected with the National Conference of Artists on a state or national level. Two of the artists in the show are special guest exhibitors: E. J. Montgomery of San Francisco, Calif. and Freida High of Madison, Wis.

The other two artists represented in this exhibit are Larnell Butler and Patricia Davis, both of Greencastle.

Carrying out the theme "Focus: The Black Woman," programs dealing with aspects of a Black women's life are planned throughout the weekend. A variety show featuring choirs and dance groups from Denison College, Earlham College, Gary, DePauw University and Kenyon College is set for 8 p.m. Friday.

Workshops dealing with business, communication and medicine are at 10 a.m. Saturday followed by a film on "Black Women" at 1 p.m.

Jury Awards $6,000 In Condemnation Case

A Putnam County Jury Awarded $6,000 in a land condemnation case ruled on in circuit court here yesterday. The case was the State of Indiana vs. Clara Turner, and involved one third of an acre of ground one mile north of Catacart on State Road 43.

The plaintiff received all but one thousand of the $7,000 she asked for, while the state's original offer was $1,650.

The plaintiff did receive, however, the full price which court appointed appraisers had set as the value of the land, $6,000.

As part of their deliberations, the jurors went to the site of the land in the rain yesterday morning.

The names of the jurors who ruled on the case were: Betty Bruner of Route 4, Greencastle; Madge Baker, Route 3, Greencastle; Dorothy Perkins, Route 4, Cloverdale; Marion Wallus, 8004 Madison, Greencastle; Wilma Page, Route 2, Ladoga; Thomas Emery, 709

The exhibit juror was Brian O'Doherty, Director of the Visual Arts Program of the National Endowment for the Arts and Art and Architecture Critic for the NBC Today Show.

O'Doherty said of the Wabash Valley Exhibition entries: "The quality of the submissions was higher than I've encountered anywhere in the country in a group exhibition of this kind."

and will be on display until Friday in their main gallery.

The Wabash Valley Exhibition competition is among the largest in the Middle West.

There were 858 entries submitted and of these 187 works by 146 artists were accepted, with Miss Cook's being one of 10 Gallery Acquisition Awards.

Dear Editor:
As a native of Putnam County, I feel compelled to write this. My husband and I visited my parents one week ago on a Saturday afternoon. The county roads were so bad one mile from my parent's house that we became stuck in the mud in the middle of the road. Luckily my husband pushed on the gas hard enough that we got out without having to walk through the mud with our dress clothes on and push the car out.

Immediately the situation was both hilarious and maddening. Why can't the Putnam County Highway Department turn the mud paths into passable roads? What is stopping them? When I lived in your county the problem was serious, but at the least the roads were passable. But the problem becomes drastic when a car gets stuck in a pure mud road! My husband couldn't believe it. And for once in my life I'm glad not to be a permanent resident of Putnam County.

Sincerely Yours,
Rita M. Coulter

HUNDREDS KILLED

DEATH TOLL MOUNTS; DAMAGE IN MILLIONS

Tornadoes Rip Nation

By JERRY GARRETT
Associated Press Writer

Hoosiers began digging out today after a herd of deadly tornadoes gouged through Indiana Wednesday, killing scores, injuring hundreds and leaving possibly thousands homeless in the state's worst natural disaster since the Palm Sunday tornadoes in 1965.

At least 63 persons were known dead, and as many as 1,000 injured.

At Monticello, where a five block section of downtown was completely obliterated, eight were confirmed fatalities with five more believed drowned in the Tippecanoe River after a Volkswagen bus with members of a church group was blown off a bridge. More than 300 were injured, most at the Bryan Manufacturing Co., where 140 persons were working on the building's third floor when tornadoes hit.

An eye witness called the area "a scene of total devastation." Running water, electricity and natural gas service was still out by early morning.

At least a half dozen smaller communities were literally wiped off the map, state police reported. Martinsburg, in Washington County, "just isn't there anymore," said a state trooper. Shortly after the brunt of the tornadoes hit, an earth tremor, registering 5.0 on the Richter scale jolted most of western Indiana and eastern Illinois. No damage was reported. National Weather Service officials said some theories associate earth tremors with intense low pressure systems, as the one that spawned Wednesday's tornadoes.

In Indiana, Gov. Otis R. Bowen ordered the National Guard in six counties where tornadoes heavily damaged scores of small towns in the central and southeastern portions. Depauw, a town of 500, was leveled. Temporary morgues were set up. Nine communities were without telephone service and Indiana Bell said it would be days and perhaps weeks before communications could be fully restored.

Dozens of people were unaccounted for and officials feared the death toll would go higher as searches intensified today. The major thrust of tornadoes was along four wide swaths through Indiana from the southwest to the northeast corner of the state. The Monticello area tornado cut a path up to two miles wide.

Communications and electricity were still out in some areas, but those believed hardest hit were Jefferson County, Fulton County, and White County.

Death tolls mounted today in the paths of tornadoes that smashed a deadly trail from the Deep South, through the Ohio Valley and into Canada. More than 260 persons were killed, hundreds were injured and damage ran into the millions of dollars.

The twisters struck late Wednesday, dipping into villages, cities and rural sections. They left areas in shambles in Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Alabama, Tennessee, Georgia, North Carolina, Michigan and Windsor, Ont.

The vicious winds destroyed half the town of Xenia, Ohio. They demolished neighborhoods, leveled buildings, blew over railroad freight cars, tractor-trailer trucks and autos. Rubble stood five feet deep in some business areas.

Siren-screaming ambulances rushed victims to hospitals while terrified survivors huddled together in grief and shock.

Telephone communications were knocked out in most areas and National Guard units were called up to help evacuation efforts and to prevent looting.

Heavy rains and hail also struck the storm areas.

"We had about 30 seconds warning before it hit," said Gary Hefflin, a grocery store manager in Xenia. "All you could hear was the wind, the crashes and people praying."

Half the town of Xenia, Ohio, was destroyed. "It's complete devastation," a Red Cross worker said. Another witness called it "worse than any of the bombings in Germany" during World War II.

At least 1,000 persons were homeless. Rows of bodies were arranged in the rubble-strewn streets. More victims were believed trapped in overturned cars, but heavy equipment was unable to get through the streets to lift the vehicles.

The vicious winds demolished neighborhoods, leveled buildings, blew over railroad freight cars, tractor-trailer trucks and autos. Rubble stood five feet deep in some business areas.

KENNARD Ind. (AP) — Marilyn Leavelle heard the sirens and thought it must be another fire. It turned out she was wrong.

The wailing of emergency vehicles' sirens announced the impending arrival of a tornado that eventually would level a large portion of the rural community where she lived.

"I was in the house," Mrs. Leavelle said. "And I heard a siren that made me think, 'My gosh, there's another fire.'"

Her husband, Elbert, had left home earlier in the afternoon to join fellow volunteer Kennard firemen on a call.

Mrs. Leavelle stepped outside her house and saw it was hailing. "It was real large hail, so I went back and got my camera to take a picture for our son who is in the service."

"All of a sudden, it got real quiet."

Moments later her husband rushed home and said a tornado was headed their way. The Leavelles rushed to their basement, and the tornado ripped off a large chunk of their home.

"It used to be a beautiful home," she said later as firemen tacked down tarpaper where green roofing shingles had been.

Less than a block away, the Kennard school stood against the evening sky like an embattled war relic. Wind-torn trees, an overturned school bus and debris littered the playground.

The brick school building itself had been torn apart by the funnel cloud. The children, however, were safe.

Clocks in the central Indiana community of 400 stopped at 3:15 p.m. moments before children attending the town's only school had boarded two buses for the daily ride home. Luckily, someone saw the funnel approaching, and the youngsters were rushed back inside to the safety of the school basement.

At least 14 homes, two churches and the grade school were severely damaged or destroyed. The narrow Kennard main street was strewn with splintered trees, parts of houses, business signs and battered automobiles.

A state police trooper who saw the tornado coming said it "must have been a tenth of a mile wide, with other little funnels around it."

The trooper, Sgt. Ernie H. Alder, who lives in the stricken area, said he was on patrol, heard the severe weather warnings, and headed home. Driving east on Interstate 70 he saw a massive black twister rumbling across farm fields toward the highway.

"I was going to stop traffic back away from where it was going to cross the road."

"But it was raining so hard I was afraid if I stopped, I would cause an accident."

else I can say about it."

MONTICELLO Ind. (AP) — Monticello woke up this morning only to find that most of it was no longer there.

Few buildings in the community of 4,800 people, about 25 miles north of Lafayette in northern Indiana, escaped a destructive tornado that slashed through the town late Wednesday afternoon.

There were eight confirmed deaths and a National Guardsman said the count could reach as high as 20. White County sheriff's deputies estimated 300 injured, and said 41 were hospitalized, 13 at White County Hospital at Monticello and the rest in Lafayette hospitals.

BRANDENBURG Ky. (AP) — The dead of Kentucky's tornado-blasted Meade County were brought today to the funeral home of Coroner Kenneth

Webb-Crosby Vows Exchanged

Miss Rachel Webb and Steve Crosby were united in marriage on Saturday, March 16, in an evening wedding at the Roachdale Presbyterian Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Webb, Route 1, Roachdale. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Crosby of Route 2, Roachdale.

The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Leo Schmidt. Mrs. Claude Crosby provided the organ music.

Attendants were Mrs. Darrell Hodgen of Ladoga, matron of honor, and Mrs. Jon Stafford of Roachdale, bridesmaid. Darrell Hodgen of Ladoga was the best man and Jon Stafford of Roachdale was the groomsman. Tim Hanna of Roachdale and Duane Johnson of Crawfordsville were ushers.

The bride wore a gown of white knit trimmed with an Alencon lace bib, stand up neckline and a chapel length train. Matching lace accented the bishop sleeves and cuffs. Her headpiece was a Juliet cap with a white satin bow and streamers. Her bouquet featured pink roses and babies breath.

The bridesmaids wore burgandy floor length dresses styled with an empire waist and accented with pink lace and buttons. They each carried a nosegay consisting of pink carnations, red roses and babies breath.

Lisa Boone, the flower girl, wore a pink floor length dress. The empire waist was trimmed with darker pink lace and ribbon. She carried a basket of pink carnations, red roses and babies breath. Tom Crosby was ringbearer.

Assisting at the reception following the ceremony were Mrs. Thomas Boone of Crawfordsville and Mrs. Joseph Crosby of Roachdale. Sandy and Mary Webb, sisters of the bride, registered the guests.

The bride is a 1972 graduate of North Putnam High School. The groom is a 1972 graduate of North Putnam High School and is engaged in farming.

Following a wedding trip to the Smoky Mountains the couple will reside at Route 2, Roachdale.

The bidding:

North 1 NT East Pass South 3 ♥ West Pass 4 ♥

Dear Mr. Becker: It is a long time since I wrote you, but you may recall that on several occasions I have sent you hands to fortify my contention that I am the greatest bridge player in the world!

It is true that my name is not inscribed on any trophies emblematic of national or world supremacy, but it is nonetheless a fact that no player on earth can equal or excel my extraordinary feats at the bridge table. The only trouble is that all my wonderful bids and plays occur while I am asleep, the plain unvarnished truth being that when I am awake I am a very ordinary and erratic player.

As proof of my prowess while I am in the Land of Nod, I cite this hand which I played last night. I was West and had to lead against four hearts.

It is hard to imagine any way of defeating the contract, but I accomplished the feat without even batting an eyelash. I did not fall into the trap of leading the jack of spades, which most players would have done. Instead, I led the queen of clubs!

Now imagine, if you will, being in declarer's shoes at this moment. He naturally thought I had the Q-J, so he ducked in dummy. When I then led the deuce he ducked again, reasoning that with the ten in his own hand East would have to win with the ace.

But my partner won with the jack and returned a club which I took with the ace.

I now administered the coup de grace by leading the five of clubs. South discarded a diamond from dummy and my partner, bless him, trumped with the jack. As a result, declarer lost a trump trick and went down one. Cordially yours, John E. Doe.

Former Resident Tom Miller Receives Award

A former Russellville resident Tom Miller has received the Professional Photographers of America Seal of Approval for a photograph exhibited in the regional competition in Columbus, Ohio. Mr. Miller entered three photographs which were among 727 entries from photographers in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia. Out of 530 photographs accepted for exhibition only 44 were awarded the seal of approval. Winning photographs will now be included in the National Exhibition of Photography Aug. 4-7 in Los Angeles, Calif. Mr. Miller will receive an Award of Merit. Mr. Miller's wife, Pat, is a former high school teacher in this area. They now own their own studio "The Village Photographer" in Zionsville. Ted is the son of Ray Miller and grandson of Gertrude Sharp who are both from Waveland. Maynard Wilson of Ladoga was a Monday evening guest of his father Ellis Wilson and his wife. Mrs. Lucetta Klein returned home recently after undergoing ear surgery in the St. Vincent Hospital in Indianapolis. Olive Evans and Frances Harbison called on Mrs. Lucille Everman Monday evening. Landy Myers of New Market was a Wednesday guest of his sister Mrs. Nelle Phillips. Warren Williams of Crawfordsville, brother of Mrs.

Lucetta Klein of Russellville was transferred from Culver Hospital in Crawfordsville to a hospital in Lafayette where he is recovering from a broken hip. Mrs. William Davis of Crawfordsville was a Thursday guest of Lucille Gardner. Mrs. Margaret McCormick is a patient in the Indiana University Medical Center in Indianapolis where she is undergoing tests and treatment. F.T. Calvert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Calvert of near Russellville was transferred from the Naval hospital in the Philippines to Chicago and on to a Naval regional medical center in Philadelphia, Pa. where he will undergo surgery Thursday. Members of his family were able to see him while he was in Chicago. His sister Nellie of Crawfordsville accompanied his wife to Pennsylvania during the surgery. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Daniel of Hammond were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dee Flock. On Monday they all visited with Mr. and Mrs. Ross Furney of rural Greencastle. Mr. Daniel is a nephew of Mrs. Furney.

Never leave a knife with a sharp blade in a pan of sudsy water in the sink where the blade can't be seen. Such a practice has led to many a cut!

Dispose of cracked or chipped dishes and glasses because bacteria can hide in cracks and chips no matter how carefully the dishes and glasses are washed.

Mr. and Mrs. Perle P. Bridges of Route 1, Roachdale announce the engagement of their daughter, Candace Sue, to Richard Lee Royer, son of Mrs. Betty Royer and the late John Royer of Darlington. Miss Bridges is a 1971 graduate of North Putnam High School and will graduate in May from St. Anthony's School of Nursing. Her fiancé is a 1970 graduate of Darlington High School, is a member of the Indiana National Guard and is presently employed by the Whitesville Elevator. A June 8 wedding is being planned in the Russellville Christian Church.

A cry for help from a cigaret addict

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is me! I smoke between three and four packs of cigarettes a day and I can't quit. I have thrown them away, packs at a time. I've been to three "stop-smoking" programs and went back to smoking after each one. If I don't have a cigaret after 15 minutes, I become so nervous I am ready to climb the wall. I have been to a hypnotist, a psychiatrist and a psychologist and they couldn't help me. I have become an addict just like an alcoholic. If I don't have a smoke I can't function. Please don't say, "You can quit if you want to," because nobody wants to quit as much as I do, Abby, but I just can't help myself. I know I am going to smoke myself right into the grave, but there seems to be nothing I can do about it. Can you help me? HOOKED IN BIRMINGHAM

DEAR HOOKED: I don't know what "stop-smoking" programs you've attended, but I've had some excellent reports about several. You may have a nicotine addiction, so see a physician. [But choose one who doesn't smoke!] I KNOW you can quit, because two of my best friends were as hooked as you—and they both quit—cold turkey! Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 22-year-old woman. Seven years ago my mother died and my world fell apart. A year later my father remarried. My step-mother and I never got along. At first we both tried, but after years of fighting, we knew we could never be friends. My father always took her part against me.

I continued to live at home until I reached 21. Then I moved to another city [about as far away as I could get] to make a new life for myself. There I met the man to whom I am now engaged. In the year I've been gone I wrote 36 letters to my father. He didn't write to me once!

Even when I wrote that I was engaged, he didn't call or write to congratulate me . . . his only child. I realize that he just doesn't care about me.

My problem: All my mother's lovely china, crystal, silver and linen are in the home my father and his second wife share. I feel that my mother would have wanted me to have some of them—and I want them for sentimental reasons, but I know my father will not give them to me willingly, and I'd probably have to put up a fight for them.

Do I have any legal rights to these things? Can you help me? L.

DEAR L.: The only one qualified to give you legal advice is a lawyer. Your best bet is to engage one and pay him [or her] for what he [or she] knows.

Tiger Tankers Trounce Southmont Severely

Greencastle's junior high swim teams swept their second dual meet of the season with Southmont Tuesday afternoon, the site of the slaughter this time McAnally Center.

The girls proved once again to be the least merciful of the tandem teams, annihilating the Chargers to the tune of a 130-40 score, while the boys showed a bit more consideration in their 65-39 victory.

Laura Humphrey led the girls' butchering with three first place finishes, while Julie Walton and Lisa Kissinger added a pair apiece and Patty Lyon and Michelle Griffith chipped in with single victories.

The boys surrendered six of eleven first places to their Charger foes, but relied on depth and two wins by David Hedrick to carry home the bacon. John Null and Eddie Miller each came through with a win apiece.

The Tigers will hit the tank again this afternoon at McAnally.

North Putnam Track Looking Up

"We're looking up and hoping to move that way", says North Putnam track coach Don DeBoer about the 1974 version of the Cougar squad.

"We're trying to get the program off the ground and going on the right track", and it appears that the first-year head coach and his forces are moving in that direction, as the largest turnout in the history of North Putnam has shown up at the cinders this spring, some 23 boys, with three more possibilities at the end of the current grading period.

In the five year existence of North Putnam, the track teams have managed only one victory in dual meet competition, that coming last season. In the WCC and county meets, the Cougars have been the traditional cellar dwellers.

DeBoer's immediate goals for this campaign are to "participate on a close basis in dual meets, by that I mean not being humiliated" and to "make a move out of the cellar in the conference and county".

Thus far, in the two dual meets against Turkey Run and Cascade, the Cougars have placed in every event, indicating that the goals of their coach are in the process of being realized.

DeBoer has three seniors on this year's squad, headed by returning letterman and middle distance runner Greg Sanders, who could be scoring heavily in the 880 for the Cougars. Two miler Mark Thompson moves to track from last fall's cross country team, while Terry Tippin trades his bat and glove for a shot put and discus, perhaps also seeing action in the sprints.

Ed Thornburg and Harold Greene head the junior contingent with respective strong performances in the mile and 440 in the Cougars' first two meets. Lester Miles is recovering from a foot injury before the hurdles again, while Darrell Gossel's motorcycle got the best of him a week ago, temporarily keeping him away from the shot and discus circles.

Other juniors out, in better health than this pair, are Mike McBride, shot, discus, and high jump, Larry Tippin, field events and a dash, Jim Tippin, possibly sprints and hurdles, and David Ritter, a middle distance runner.

Another injury victim heads the list of sophomores out, as Tusty Reynolds bruised his heel long jumping indoors when he cleared twenty feet and ran out of foam rubber on which to land. He'll be back to also do a dash, while he is joined by classmates Bob Gibbons, a distance runner, and Kelly Sanders, who does well the unlikely combination of distance runs and dashes.

Freshmen running for the Cougars are Kevin Phillips, middle distance, Dean Williamson, field events, David Boruff, hurdles, 440, and long jump, David Trent, pole vault and sprints, Dale McCullough, low hurdles and sprints, Rollie Oliver, distance, Jim McGaughey, middle distance, and Terry Wood, middle distance.

Vernon Paris, a strong contender in the pole vault, is sidelined all season with a leg injury.

The size of the turnout pleases DeBoer, as last year's squad consisted of less than 15 boys, a bad omen for a sport which relies so heavily on numbers and the resulting depth. What's more, DeBoer feels that the turnout may even increase if enough interest is generated through Cougar successes.

The successes thus far, of placing in every event run in the two meets, has a contagious effect, according to DeBoer, hopefully causing more ribbons to find their way to the Cougar locker room, joining the others already won.

There's no way to go but up for the North Putnam track program. How far up the Cougars go this year may surprise some people.

Sloan Named Coach Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Norm Sloan, a low-key boss who plays down his role with North Carolina State's national championship basketball team, was named The Associated Press Coach of the Year today.

The modest transplanted Hoosier scored a runaway victory over Marquette's Al McGuire, a man whom Sloan beat just as easily for the national title.

The 47-year-old Sloan collected 81 points to 35 for McGuire in balloting by the nation's sports writers and broadcasters.

Notre Dame's Dick Phelps placed third with 24 votes, Michigan's Johnny Orr was fourth with 19 and UCLA's John Wooden, who has won this award five times, was fifth with 14.

Preaching "love" among his players, Sloan directed the Wolfpack to a 30-1 record this season, including the 76-64 victory over Marquette in the National Collegiate Athletic Association's finals.

But he's not overly impressed with his part in the formidable accomplishments.

"People give coaching too much credit," he has often said. "Players win the games, not the coaches."

Sloan has mystical rapport with his players, as well as an enormous attachment. In his eighth season, those ingredients have helped him compile a 145-71 record, including a 27-0 mark last year when the Wolfpack was on NCAA probation for recruiting violations.

Prior to taking over the North Carolina State post, Sloan coached at Presbyterian College, The Citadel and Florida. His overall coaching record is 358-208 and he has won Coach of the Year honors in three different conferences — the Southern, Southeastern and twice in the Atlantic Coast Conference. He has guided the Wolfpack to three ACC titles.

Sloan's emergence as the nation's No. 1 coach moves Wooden out of the spotlight, temporarily at least. The UCLA coach was named Coach of the Year in 1967, 1969, 1970, 1972 and 1973.

Other coaches receiving votes this year: Charles Riddle, Pitt (10); Ted Owens, Kansas (8); Lute Olson, Long Beach State

(5); Roy Skinner, Vanderbilt (3); Eddie Sutton, Creighton (2); Don Donohue, Dayton (2); and Fred Schaus, Purdue (2).

Receiving one vote each: Ken Trickey, Oral Roberts; Norm Ellenberger, New Mexico; John

Morrison, Canisius; Dick Harter, Oregon; Dee Rowe, Connecticut; Joe Stowell, Bradley; Lefty Driesell; Jud Heathcote, Montana; C. M. Newton, Alabama and Jack McKinney, St. Joseph's, Pa.

The 714 Controversy

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hank Aaron, Atlanta's amazing 40-year-old slugger closing in on baseball's most revered record, is in a dilemma.

Needing only two home runs to break the immortal Babe Ruth's lifetime record of 714, Hammerin' Hank has been the center of a broiling controversy over whether he should or shouldn't play in the Braves' season-opening series against the Cincinnati Reds beginning Thursday.

"I have mixed emotions," Aaron said Wednesday. "I want to do what's right. I would like to play and I hope I'm in shape to play."

"But, from a selfish standpoint, I'd like to break the record in Atlanta. I live there. Then, when friends came by I could take them to the ball park and show them where I hit it. That wouldn't be possible if I broke it in Cincinnati."

Neither Aaron nor manager Eddie Mathews were saying Wednesday whether Aaron would be in the lineup for the major league's 1974 opener at 2:30 p.m. EDT in Riverfront Stadium.

"It's going to be Hank and me," said Mathews, openly angered by an apparent order last month from Commissioner Bowie Kuhn that the Braves play Aaron in at least two of the three games in Cincinnati.

"We'll get together before the game and decide," Mathews said. "A lot will depend on the weather. He certainly wouldn't play if it's wet like it is today."

The Braves arrived here before noon and were scheduled for an afternoon workout, but it was rained out. The forecast called for a 50 per cent chance of rain again Thursday.

The dispute over Aaron's playing status arose in January when the Braves announced he would sit out the series here and begin his 21st season in Atlanta's home opener against the Los Angeles Dodgers Monday night.

Kuhn countered with what was interpreted as an order that Atlanta use Aaron in at least two games in Cincinnati.

"I'm still waiting for the commissioner to tell me who to play in the next 10 games," said Mathews Wednesday. "As far as I'm concerned, though, there's been no order. He's never talked to me and he's never talked to Hank."

"I may be making a challenge, but we're going to do it just like we did last year. We'll decide on the day of the game whether or not he plays."

Babe Ruth Registration

All boys born prior to August 1, 1961 and or after August 1, 1958 will be eligible for Babe Ruth Baseball competition this summer and may pick up application forms at the Junior High or High School Principal's office. The deadline for signing up is May 1.

The four local Babe Ruth teams are sponsored by the Elks, Kiwanis, Legion and Moose. League competition will begin on June 3.

WASHINGTON — Gary Collins, former All-Pro receiver with the Cleveland Browns, was signed by the Washington Ambassadors of the new World Football League as a player and assistant coach.

TALLAHASSEE Fla. — Jim Williams was fired as head football coach at Florida A&M University after he refused to resign.

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

Donald's advice should be heeded by all workers and voters in the U.S.A. For politicians regularly trick us by the 3 standard methods below. And send for that booklet that exposes 10 more of their sly, nefarious methods!

CASE Z-594: Donald B., aged 29, is a high school teacher.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I teach Civics classes and emphasize the 'Efficiency Engineering in Government' theme that you stress in your college textbook, 'Psychology Applied'."

"For I am incensed at the constantly higher taxes that are levied on the productive citizens of America."

"Just think of the drain of creative energy also imposed on those employees and private businessmen who must spend millions of hours computing the taxes they must deduct from their employees' pay checks!"

"Dr. Crane, I wish you'd expose in your column the devious ways that politicians try to deceive us."

"For they hoodwink gullible voters by the millions!"

INDUSTRY WASTES FUEL

WAKE FOREST, N.C. (AP) - The amount of fuel used to produce compressed air that is wasted by industry would heat a community of some 200,000 persons for a year, according to a survey made here.

"About 10 per cent of the compressed air used by 1.2 million industrial and service establishments in the United States is being lost, according to our plant surveys," says Donald Sicklesteel, vice president of Scovill's Fluid Power Division, a maker of air control equipment. "This translates into annual preventable fuel wastage of about 100 million gallons of oil, or 600,000 tons of coal, or 15 billion cubic feet of natural gas. The dollar value is about $30 million."

TOUCH OF CLASS

TORONTO (AP) - Commuters packed on a subway into the downtown area were amused during a delay on the line. The motorman switched on the intercom and, before explaining the cause of the delay, said: "Ladies and gentlemen, this is your captain speaking."

TEACHERS DON'T GET APPLES THESE DAYS

BASILDON, England (AP) - Seven-year-old Tommy Butler proudly brought his teacher an object he had found on an Essex beach, saying he had hit it with a hammer but it wouldn't open.

It turned out to be a 20-inch live mortar bomb from World War II. Said a school welfare officer: "We often get toffee apples but seldom bombs."

MEN'S APPAREL in Greencastle

"I've Become Conscious"

Patricia Hearst With SLA

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patricia Hearst, the newspaper heiress who was dragged screaming from her apartment two months ago, renounced her family on Wednesday and declared she was joining her terrorist kidnappers as a revolutionary.

"I have changed — grown. I've become conscious and can never go back to the life we led before," said the tape-recorded voice identified by her mother as that of Patricia.

The 20-year-old heiress has been held during demands for millions of dollars of free food for the poor.

A second voice on the tape, identifying himself as a leader of the terrorist Symbionese Liberation Army, declared that the heiress to a newspaper fortune was free to leave at any time and added that her freedom was no longer a subject for negotiation.

The FBI agent in charge of the case, Charles Bates, said he did not know whether Patricia was staying of her own free will. "I don't feel it makes any difference in our investigation," he said.

The taped message was delivered to a San Francisco radio station one day after another "communique" that promised details of Miss Hearst's release would be provided within 72 hours. That message had signaled an apparent end to the two-month Hearst family ordeal during which $2 million in free food was given away and another $4 million pledged to secure the young woman's release.

Patricia's 18-year-old sister Ann arrived at the family home in suburban Hillsborough moments after the tape was delivered. "I know Patty far too well to think she'd come around like that. She only hears one side of the story ... I don't believe it. She's too bull-headed."

But on the tape, the latest in a series of suddenly delivered communications from the terrorist group, Patricia said: "I have learned how vicious the pig really is, and our comrades are teaching me to attack with even greater viciousness ..."

Thomas O'Hare, program director of KSNB, the station to which the message was sent, said the envelope contained the tape, a typed transcript, a color photograph and a thin slip of paper which said the other half of Patricia's driver's license was included. But the document, the other half of which was received Tuesday, was not included.

The photograph showed Miss Hearst holding a .38-caliber rifle and standing in front of a banner bearing the seven-headed cobra symbol of the SLA.

The man who identified himself as Cinque, SLA General Field Marshal, said in the tape recording: "There is no further need to discuss the release of the prisoner, since she is now a comrade and has been accepted into the ranks of the people's army as a comrade and fighter. And there is no further basis for negotiations since the subject may leave whenever she feels that she wishes to do so, and she is armed and perfectly willing and able to defend herself."

Miss Hearst was seized the evening of Feb. 4 at the apartment she shared with her fiancée, graduate student Steven Weed. Her abductors sprayed bullets behind them as they left and beat Weed, 26, and a neighbor.

The SLA, believed to be a multiracial group of no more than 25 members, also declared certain "corporate enemies of the people" would be shot on sight. Three persons — two black men and one white woman — were said on the broadcast to be on a death list.

Miss Hearst's father, Randolph A. Hearst, is editor and president of the San Francisco Examiner. He returned to the family's home after the tape was played on KSNB and entered the house without comment.

A family spokesman said Hearst's wife Catherine, after hearing the tape in their home, walked to the top of the staircase landing and remained there for several moments in stunned silence.

There had been speculation within past weeks that Miss Hearst may have been in league with the SLA from the outset — speculation vehemently denied by Weed, her parents and by associates of the Hearst family.

Miss Hearst began her message by saying she had never been forced to say anything on any tape "nor have I been brainwashed, drugged, tortured, hypnotized or in any way confused."

She termed the $2-million People in Need food giveaway funded by her father and the William Randolph Hearst Foundation "a sham." Then, to her parents, she said: "You were playing games — stalling for time — time which the FBI was using in their attempts to assassinate me and the SLA elements which guarded me."

She accused her father of being a liar and said, "You said you are concerned with my life and the lives and interests of all oppressed people ... but you are a liar in both areas, and as a member of the ruling class I know your interests and Mom's are never the interests of the people."

The communique was delivered to the radio station in an envelope marked "energy crisis news." Another message from the group delivered to an underground newspaper Tuesday arrived with a dozen long-stemmed roses.

In the 20-minute recording, Miss Hearst said she had been given the name "Tanya," after a comrade who fought alongside Cuban revolutionary Che Guevara in Bolivia.

"I embrace the name with the determination to continue fighting with her spirit," the taped message said. "There is no victory in half-assed attempts at revolution."

The man calling himself Cinque also said: "All corporate enemies of the people will be shot on sight at any time and at any place. This order is permanent, until such time as all enemies have either surrendered or been destroyed."

The SLA tape gave these identifications of the three individuals it said were singled out for execution:

—Robin Steiner, 20, a white female and "past resident of Berkeley now living in Florida, an informer to the FBI."

—Chris Thompson, a Berkeley resident alleged to be "a government agent, paid informant for the FBI." Thompson was identified as a black male, but no age was given.

—Colston Westbrook, 35, black, "Berkeley language instructor, resident of Oakland, is a government agent, worked for CIA in Vietnam ... now working for military intelligence while giving cross-assistance to the FBI."

Much of Miss Hearst's comments reflected the rhetoric used by the SLA in past "communiques" — plus a personal message addressed to Weed, the young Princeton graduate she was soon to marry.

"Steven, I know that you are beginning to realize that there is no such thing as neutrality in time of war," she said.

"My love has expanded as a result of my experiences to embrace all people. It's grown into an unselfish love for my comrades here, in prison and on the streets. A love that comes from the knowledge that 'no one is free until we are all free.' While I wish that you could be a comrade, I don't expect it — all I expect is that you try to understand the changes I've gone through."

"I have been given the choice of being released in a safe area, or joining the forces of the Symbionese Liberation Army and fighting for my freedom and the freedom of all oppressed people. I have chosen to stay and fight."

Yablonski Murder Case Continues

MEDIA Pa. (AP) — Prosecution witnesses testified today that two hired killers bought cars within hours after they assassinated Joseph "Jock" Yablonski.

Former United Mine Workers president W. A. "Tony" Boyle, 72, is on trial for murder in the slaying of his union rival.

Two of the confessed killers, Claude Vealey and Paul Gilly, both of Cleveland, already have testified about how they and Aubran W. Martin executed Yablonski, his wife and daughter.

Joseph DiMauro, who sells cars in the Cleveland suburb of Lakewood, testified today he sold Vealey a car for $506 later that day.

Donald Bram, of Cleveland, reported Martin came in the same day and bought a car from him, paying $940 in cash.

Vealey related Tuesday how the confessed killers considered dynamite, fire bombs and poison before finally shooting Yablonski on a $5,200 murder contract he claims came from a man named "Tony."

George Smith Jr. of Jellico, Tenn., the 14th prosecution witness since testimony began Monday, told the jury of nine men and three women that Gilly and his father-in-law sought to get him to dynamite the Yablonski's house.
